EDITOR'S MESSAGE

Lam Ze Ying

Welcome to the second issue of In The League.

The first issue was warmly received and I would like to thank those who came up to me personally to compliment and give appreciation to our effort in putting this newsletter together. That really caught me unexpected, but your kind words make a difference and I am really touched, moved, and inspired.

I would like to share this appreciation to all whom have made this newsletter possible - Saniva International Pte Ltd, Singapore for their generous sponsorship, Choo Wai for believing that this newsletter will make a difference, Mr LL Wong for his editorial contribution, May Cay for her design expertise, and many others who have contributed in one way or another. You, are also welcome to contribute your articles, views, and feedback at editor@bridgeleague.net.

In this issue, we have printed the revised schedule for the league, as we have one more team participating. Read our feature article on a 3NT hand that many declarers have stumbled during our first Open House on 2 April. Those who have cracked your brains on the quiz can have the answer revealed, and for those who have participated, flip to page 3 now to see if you have won our mystery prize!

We have also opened up the 'Ask the Expert' column as a platform to have your bridge queries answered. Do not hesitate to send in your questions now to expert@bridgeleague.net!

Happy reading and bridging!

1ST OPEN HOUSE : 02-APRIL

Our very first Open House took off at the SCBA Clubhouse successfully. There were 28 tables, all playing the same computer-dealt hands with hand records provided thereafter, as well as a sumptuous spread of fried bee hoon, succulent curry chicken and delicious almond bean curd, to name a few, for the interest of those who were not present.

The 28-table turn-out had the SCBA Clubhouse bustling with Bridge.
